

This contract between _____, hereafter referred to as _____ and contributor name hereafter referred to as the contributor .

The contributor grants _____ the right to use certain creative property such as artwork, and writings submitted The contributor to be displayed on The Museum of Mythical History web site, hereafter referred to as the site, owned by _____.

_____ has the right and control to only display the creative property submitted by The contributor at his discretion on his site. _____ may also use the submitted creative property to promote the site in advertisements, conventions, and documentaries relating to the site. The contributor waives any right to any compensation from _____ unless modified The contributor and _____ at a later date.

If for any reason the contributor feels that his/her submitted artwork/writings are being used inappropriately , or used in any way that would detract from the original submission or defame character in any way, The contributor may terminate this agreement with _____ in writing, and any rights granted to _____ for submission(s) by the contributor are revoked and made forfeit.

The contributor reserves the right to all licensing and copyright of said displayed creative property in all other areas except as used on The Museum of Mythical History web site and related advertisements conventions and documentaries.

If at a future date, an actual Museum of Mythical History is constructed at a physical site, _____ will not be permitted to display the creative property, in any form, of The contributor unless a new contract is executed by _____ and The contributor.

The contributor

Date

Date